REVIEW FOR EUROPE.

Whatever room there may be for improvement in the industrial condition of the country, our political state could not be better. Never since the time of Rivadavia has there been a ruler more beloved and respected by the Argentines of every shade of politics, than the man who at present sways the destiny of the Argentine Nation—Bartholomew Mitre. From the Andes to the Atlantic not one dissentient voice is heard: all admit that he is, 'par excellence,' the best President we ever had. Revolution has died out since he assumed power, political rancor has been extinguished, and the public moneys, instead of being squandered in soldiers' caps and firearms, finds its way to England for railway iron, etc. In view of the giant reform which is going on in this country, we cannot withhold from praising the man who inaugurates this bright era.

Since the sailing of the French packet, Congress, responding to the suggestions of the Government, has authorised the President to subscribe for two thousand shares of the Argentine Central Railway, and, moreover, has sanctioned the alterations which Mr. Wheelwright and the Board of Directors asked to be made in the original concession.

The different ministers have sent in their reports, but being too long for publication, and containing matters of slight interest to our foreign readers, we pass over them in silence.

The project for establishing several lines of steamers in the rivers, is still before Congress. We have reason to believe that, notwithstanding the opposition, Messrs. Harrison and Mansilla will ultimately succeed in getting the contract. This is a matter which ought to interest our home readers, as, if the law be passed, large steamers are to be [illegible] in England for the River [illegible].

The subscription to the shares in the [illegible] Central Railway Company [illegible] continues, both here and in the [illegible]. Mr. Samuel R. Phibbs, [illegible] Consul for Liverpool, is at [illegible] travelling over the proposed [illegible] in order that on his return to [illegible] he may be able to draw up a [illegible] from personal observation, on [illegible] and quality of the lands be[illegible] to the Company. We cannot [illegible] praise this gentleman's ef[illegible] behalf of the Company and the [illegible] we believe Mr. Phibbs' re[illegible] in the most material [illegible] will [illegible] this country [illegible] that the [illegible] is a 'fait accompli,' the greatest attention is paid to lands in Santa Fé and Cordova, and several parties have already purchased estancias at from 3,000 to 4,000 silver dollars per square league, within about 15 leagues of Rosario. As this is at present the current price for such lands we call the attention of the foreign readers to the splendid investment which is now offered. These lands, which are now selling at this price, are equal if not superior to any in the Province of Buenos Ayres, where a square league of good pasture land readily finds purchasers at 30,000 silver dollars, and upwards.

A very important land law has been introduced into the Santa Fé Legislature, authorizing the sale of all Government lands in that province, at a fixed price, varying from five thousand silver dollars per square league to two thousand, according to the locality: furthermore, to induce immigration, land is offered free to all who wish to settle on it, provided they introduce on such lands a capital of sheep to the value of one thousand silver dollars. We think it right to say that the people of Santa Fé are quiet and industrious, and the Government ahead of all the other provinces in the Republic in its camp regulations and the efficiency of its police authorities.

Mr. John Duguid, a leading merchant of this city, is another champion in the great cause of industrial advancement. He is at present in the Province of Cordova, inspecting the lands and gathering valuable statistics. This gentleman is also acting as the representative of the Committee of the Argentine Central Railway Company. Through his exertions meetings have been called and agents nominated in Rosario and Cordova to canvass for subscriptions to the stock. We look forward to his return, to obtain some sound, practical, information respecting the inexhaustibly rich Province of Cordova.

Business in the interior provinces is much better than we have noticed for some time. The silver mines in San Juan are at work, and, if we are to believe reports, giving enormous yields. In the Province of Tucuman a very respectable crop of tobacco has been raised this year. In Jujuy and Oran the business of indigo is causing great attention, as the finest añil, or indigo plant, grows wild throughout those districts. In Catamarca, cotton is again being sown on a large scale. Several societies for the planting of cotton in various provinces have been formed, and one of them has already secured a crop which is very remunerative; owing, however, to the enormous high price in these countries for candle wick, the cotton grown by this company is retained for home consumption.

In Buenos Ayres business is not so brisk, owing to the season. It is now with us here the dead of winter, and the rainy season has set in; the camps are in splendid condition, and the sheepfarmers doing well; in the city, however, very little is doing. Since the sailing of the French packet, we regret to say a rather serious failure has occurred, Civallieri and Co., which has brought down several minor firms. Although not holding in the least any influential position, either commercial or social, Sr. Civallieri seems to have enjoyed a rather extensive credit. His liabilities amount to three and a half millions of paper money, and his assetts, it is feared, will not pay a dividend of 20 per cent. to the creditors. This failure has had no slight effect on our money market, which displays signs of a growing tightness. The currency still depreciates, notwithstanding that the burning of four millions each month is religiously observed. Exchange has fallen to 49¼ per patacon, and is weak. Foreign coin is singularly abundant, but doubloons are not only scarce, but difficult to be got. Shipments of produce during the fortnight have been rather light, notwithstanding that exporters pay very high prices.

M. Riestra's project, for the redemption of the currency, will shortly be brought before the Provincial Legislature. It is barely possible that it will be passed, as in this country the only subject of speculation is the currency, which, strange to say, is bought and sold daily at the board of brokers, precisely the same as railway shares are at home. It is generally believed now that a stop must be put to this; and if people wish to speculate, they must find something else, besides the circulating medium of the country, to drive up and down.

An influential meeting has been held at the residence of the United States' Minister, to aid and assist the United States' Sanatory Commission. A full report of the proceedings will be found in the 'Weekly Standard.'

We regret to say that the arrival of emigrants for the last fortnight has been rather under the average. The reason of this we know not, since we perceive in the English papers received per last packet, that the emigration to the United States keeps unabated. If people at home could only know the immense advantages which this country possesses over either the United States or Australia, they would steer for the River Plate. The climate is unequalled, the sheepfarming business requires but little capital, and yields enormous profits. The poor, honest, sober man, who lands on our shores, is morally certain of being a man of capital in a few years, if he but persevere and earn the good-will of his employer. All the sheepfarmers in this country, what has been their capital in the commencement? 'a spade and shovel.' The same good fortune which they had awaits the humblest stranger who lands in Buenos Ayres. Patience and perseverance, sobriety and care, in no part of the known globe, meet with such splendid rewards as in this country. Take all the gentry of the county of Westmeath, and they do not represent as much property as the Irishmen from that county alone do in Buenos Ayres; and yet these fortunate emigrants landed but a few years past without a farthing in their pocket. Is not this alone sufficient proof that the Liverpool liners should, instead of sailing to a country desolated with war, steer to the new land of promise,

THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

PAUNERO'S FRONTIER PROJECT

Whoever takes up the map of this republic, as designed by Argentine geographers, will find for its southern frontier Cape Horn and the ocean, the province of Buenos Ayres being supposed to extend from Arroyo Medio to Terra del Fuego. But this is a piece of excusable national vanity on the part of Argentines, and European charts always place south of this republic a desert waste, held by independent Indian tribes, under the name Patagonia. In point of fact Patagonia does not form one of the Argentine provinces, neither is Buenos Ayres able to annex that country by conquest. We must, therefore, for the present abdicate our claim thereto, and draw a frontier line between what really forms the republic, and the territory held by the barbarous and unsubdued aborigines.

Nothing can be more surprising and at the same time more disgraceful, than the neglect of every successive Government, since the Independence, to describe an effective military 'cordon,' which would extend from the Cordillera to the Atlantic, a work now shewn to be no less easy of execution than transcendental in its importance. It is perhaps a mistake to ascribe the misery of the inland provinces to the sole cause of civil wars. For fifty years the Indians have been suffered to sweep the southern departments of Mendoza, S. Luis, Cordoba, and B. Ayres, destroying the pastoral interests on which the people depended. Under Rosas the savages were indeed held somewhat in check, but since the tyrant's fall the frontier service has notably degenerated, and in the present day we find towns like Rio Cuarto almost uninhabitable from the daring inroads of the Pampa bedouins.

Now that the republic is happily pacificated, and enterprises like the Central Argentine railway are set on foot, it is impossible for the National Government to delay any longer the serious consideration of so vital an element of public tranquility, progress, and organisation as a national frontier. The first move in this direction has been the expidition through the Chaco, which we are glad to say has resulted with complete success, so far as marking out a highway for traffic from the Salado to Corrientes. We will, however, now confine our attention to the proposed Southern frontier marked out by Nature and advocated by General Paunero.

The Rio Colorado rises in that part of the Andes contiguous to Mendoza, almost in direct line from Buenos Ayres, in 35 S. lat. and 69 W. long. pursuing a winding course S.E. until it debouches into the Atlantic a few miles below our settlement of Bahia Blanca, about 40 S. lat. Paunero estimates its length at 197 leagues, say 600 miles, and proposes to erect a line of forts with small military picquets at certain distances, along its north bank. He requires only 5000 men for so splendid an undertaking, instead of 13,000 troops of the Line and Nat. Guards at present occupied in the straggling frontier service of these provinces.

The advantages to be gained from this scheme, may be thus summed up. 1st. An effective and uniform 'cordon' of frontier posts, garrisoned by proper troops, under experienced officers, acting in concert, and able to lend speedy and mutual assistance at any moment. 2nd. the creation of an impassable barrier strengthened by Nature, which would save all our Southern provinces from periodical irruptions, and prevent the communication between the Indians of the Chaco and those of Patagonia. 3rd. the recovery of 20,000 sq. leagues (a territory three times as large as England) of the finest pasture lands. 4th. a saving of 60 per cent in the number and expenses of the present various frontier forces. 5th. the total relief of civilians from military service, and consequent increase of rural industry. 6th. the development of a new commercial artery by the navigation of the Rio Colorado (judged navigable by several engineers). 7th. a safeguard for our sheep farmers against the perils of drought, these men being formerly afraid to move their flocks towards the Indian territory. We might prolong the catalogue by shewing what a fine field for immigrants, also the facility for catching murderers and other criminals who at present evade justice by joining the Indians. Moreover the lands adjacent to the Colorado might be made to produce wheat for the whole republic, the freight to Bahia Blanca being easy and therefore cheap.

The difficulties to the enterprise are met in this manner: 1st. Most of the Indian tribes would probably refuse peaceful terms, and it would be necessary to drive them southwards across the Colorado; which Paunero undertakes to do, with five corps (each 1000 men) starting simultaneously from Mendoza, San Luis, Rojas, Azul, and Bahia Blanca. 2nd. The Indians could not subsist on the arid plains between Rio Colorado and Rio Negro, but this would oblige them to pass South of the second river, and so remove farther from our line, which would have an advanced picquet of 400 men on Isla Choélechoel. 3rd. the great distance of these picquets from any populous parts might expose them to die of starvation; but by means of the Rio Colorado the eastern garrisons might be supplied from Bahia Blanca, our great military depot, and the western from Mendoza. 4th. So extended a line as 600 miles would seem to require much more than 5,000 men for protection; neverthele ss we see the frontier of Paraguay most effectively guarded by picquets of 10 men, a mile apart, which communicate daily one with another, in front of the Gran Chaco, and are never taket by surprise: each picquet hasa smallplantation of cereals. Those officers who made Indian campaigns under Rosas, in 1833, estimate 1500 men sufficient to guard the whole line of the Colorado. We may therefore conclude 5000 to be quite enough. 5th The cost of constructing a line of forts as proposed would be so considerable as perhaps to exceed the resources disposable by Government: in this case Paunero proposes to raise a loan or special land Contribution, which estancieros would willingly pay to get rid of the Indian night-mare. After the first year the gains would more than compensate, and lands would acquire great value from the probable establishment of towns under the shadow of a secure frontier and on a navigable river. 6th. it may be thought difficult to procure even 5000 men for such ardous service, but this appears absurd when we remember that the country in time of civil war has had, more than once, so many as 50,000 men under arms.

General Paunero understands, better than any other man in Buenos Ayres, the nature and difficulties of the task he undertakes, and we believe he is capable of fulfilling his word. At the request of President Mitre he has carefully surveyed the matter in all its bearings, and handed in the above plan. He has also given a second proposed frontier-line, (in case this be deemed infeasible,) resting his base line on the Sierra Ventana and passing up towards San Luis, but it has few or none of the great advantages we have enumerated above. It is to be hoped that the Minister of War will not imitate Dr. Acosta (in his camp reforms) by dazzling the public with splendid projects never to be realized. We confide that President Mitre is in earnest and bent on keeping his word of "answering for every cow's tail in the province," and that General Gelly will lend Paunero all the means he requires to put an end to the Indian forays, and procure us a secure southern frontier.

Itinerary of the Pacificators

The Ministers arrived at San Jose on the 13th, at 5.30 p.m., where they were receiv d with joyful demonstrations: the authorities offered them a guard of honor, which was, however, declined. Couriers were sent out in all directions, from this point, to look for General Flores, and request him to make a halt. On the 14th, Messrs. Elizalde, Thornton, Drummond, Dr. Bustos, and Colonel Peres set out for the estancia Escudero; but the Brazilian Minister, along with Messrs. Lamas and Castellanos, were obliged to remain in San Jose, owing to a scarcity of horses. The latter gentlemen tried to kill time, by playing billiards and smoking paper cigars, being for the hour the lions of the place. They were invited to rustic balls, and feted with serenades, while their colleagues were flying across the country, covered with mud, and in hourly danger of their lives. Crossing the 'arroyos' was a frequent and disagreeable feature of the journey, and when at last the British and Argentine pacificators reached the estancia Escudero, they did full justice to the 'puchero' and 'asado' prepared for their bodily refreshment, after which they were fortunate enough to find beds, thus escaping the hardship of sleeping on 'recados.' But their minds were ill at ease, for no tidings could be had of Flores, and they did not know but their Brazilian and Oriental Excellencies might have got drowned, or returned in disgust to Montevideo. They despatched fresh couriers from the estancia, to try and discover whereabouts the Colorado army was hanging out, for even the Government troops did not exactly know; but all the scouts returned, like the crow into Noah's Ark, without any olive-branch, and the Ministers again set forth on their journey, amid uncertainty and over muddy roads, towards the Swiss Colony. Here they learned that the 'ignis fatuus' Flores had just struck his tents and marched to the Paso del Yi: they at once sent a messenger begging him, for the love of Heaven, to stop, as they were quite used up in the wild-goose chase.

At 5 p. m. on the 15th while Messrs. Thornton and Elizalde, with the others, were sipping brandy and water (they had prudently taken same bottles of Martell with them), the last courier arived with a letter from General Flores, to the effect that he would meet them at Mr. Jackson's estancia of Sta. Clara, neat the Puntas del Rosario. Just then they learned the arrival of their brother commissioners, whom they had left at S. Jose, and we learn that an affecting scene took place at the meeting of the five diplomatists, who had experienced such unheard of hardships. Protocols and ultimata were but child's play compared to the awful break neck adventures of the last few days.

On the morning of the 16th Messrs. Elizalde and Thorton started for Santa Clara, leaving the other six in a complete state of exhaustion on the banks of the Escudero, where they were treated to 'mate' in a native rancho. After several hours of a painful journey the English and Argentine Ministers reached Sta Clara the 16th, and were received in barbaric state by the rebel General, whose followers to the number of 2,000 were encamped on the green sward around. We have no particulars respecting the exchange of credentials and other preliminaries, but know that an armistice for three days was at once agreed on, to date from the 19th. On the 17th. Messrs Elizalde and Thorton proceeded to reconnoitre the position of the army &c: they found the Colorados reduced to the last extremity, much resembling the condition of Napoleon's troops before crossing the Simplon, but here the simile ends for none of the gaucho soldiery believe the y carry the marshal's baton in their knapsack. Flores expressed himself thoroughly digusted, not only with the fatigues of the winter campaign, but also with the conduct of the Buenos Ayrean revolutionary committee. He laughed heartily at the rumor of his intended return to B. Ayres, to become a broker on the Bolsa, and the evenful evening closed with a round game of domino.

On the 18th a cavalcade arrived at the Field-of-the-Cloth-of-Gold, comprising Messrs. Drummond, Saraiva, Lamas, Castellanos, Dr. Bastos and Col. Perez, all looking considerably improved, and after the usual polite recognitions on all sides, the first conference was held, General Flores afterwards inviting his guests to dinner. It would be unbecoming, in a serious narrative, to relate the sundry jests and bad puns circulated in broken language by the diplomatists, at the festive board, being a strange medley of English, French, Spanish, Portuguese and Guarani. Suffice it to say that everybody drank his neighbor's health, and the party broke up elated, but most friendly. The day was the anniversary of the battle of Waterloo.

On the 19th the second conference took place, and Gen. Flores accepted the terms offered, viz: Pres. Aguirre to remain in power; a mixed Cabinet formed; the disbandment of the Colorado army; to which Flores added that, as his occupation was gone, he must get some post like Comandante General of the Campaña (which is exactly what would suit him), and the commissioners agreed to procure this concession from Pres. Aguirre.

Things being so happily concluded, the three Ministers and their five companions, took leave of Don Venancio, next day, and arrived in Montevideo on the 21st, after one of the most arduous feats on diplomatic records.

LATEST FROM COLONIA.

The town of Colonia, which is precisely in front of Buenos Ayres, is badly in want of an English hotel. As the majority of the estancias in the vicinity belong to Englishmen, the town is continually thronged with English visitors, many of whom cannot speak one word of Spanish. Only the other day one of the leading merchants of B. Ayres went over to see his estancia. It was late when the boat arrived, and he was [illegible] Wi[illegible] little [illegible] belie[illegible] the Colorado [illegible] sweep on Moreno's [illegible] tancias. All the rebel [illegible] being got together at the Orqueta del Rosario. A few men have been sent on in the direction of San José. The soldiers which belonged to Laguna's regiment, and were made prisoners, have been since let go. About ten days ago a party went through the district of Carmelo, and didn't leave even a boy that they did not enlist. This doesn't look very like peace. Captain Sanches has been liberated, and is now at home with his family. In Martin Chico a small whaleboat which has been loading stores contraband, was overhauled: four of Flores' officers were caught stowed away with the stores, and are now prisoners in this town.

The sheep farmers about here are all doing well, and several strangers have recently arrived, with the intention of renting land and buying sheep. The lambing has been much better than in Buenos Ayres, and the flocks average an increase of 35 or 40 per cent. If peace is made, property will go up greatly in value, as Colonia is so near Buenos Ayres, and the pasture lands are superior. Good mestiza sheep, 3 pats.; cows and mares, no recent sales; land, if the revolution is put down, 25,000 patacons per square league, &c.

Important from San Juan.

We had the pleasure, yesterday, of a visit from a foreign gentleman resident in the above province, who gives most flattering accounts of things in general, and the silver mines in particular. He states that before he left, there was a quantity of 300 quintals of metal ready for smelting or refining and Major Rickard was pushing forward the work. The province is quite peaceable, and the people anxious to sow cotton. Our informant has brought some samples of San Juan cotton, very white and long staple, which are now on exhibition at the Bolsa. In order to encourage the industry we intend to present him with a sufficient quantity of seed to lay down 5 squares (18 acres) which he has ready for this branch of agriculture. San Juan promises soon to attract special notice, for its mineral and agricultural resources: formerly it was noted for producing clever men, among whom may be counted the actual premier, Dr. Rawson.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The state of Barracas is now so awful that there is scarcely any communication with the city; people are obliged to exist on cocks and hens, as the butchers' carts are done up. If "Jordan is a hard road to travel," the Calle Larga is the softest on this continent. The diligences are pulled along in the mud something in the same style as sleighs in Canada: wheels are now utterly useless, as the bottom of the highest diligence sits fairly on the mud, and in going down the Barranca the sensation is delightful—the coach slides down in the mud, at a speed which frightens the ladies. Some of these evenings it is expected that one of the diligences will go slap bang into M. Pongerard's College. We understand that a meeting of Barracanions is talked of in order to adopt measures to compel the Government to apply the Contribucion Directa tax, collected in Barracas, to repairing the Calle Larga, instead of paving the Retiro hill.

We hear that the protracted dispute between the Land Commission of the Southern Railway, and Mr. Langdon, respecting the price to be paid for the 8,000 yards taken by the Company, is at last about to be settled.

The mole in Montevideo is at last to be repaired: it has been in a most scandalous break-neck state. Proposals are called for—is there no one here who wishes to make a bid.

The Brazilian troops, we hear, have crossed the frontier, and several more regiments have entered Oriental territory. The Brazilian Admiral, it would seem, intends to stop three months or more in Montevideo—he calls for tenders to supply him and his ships with the best beef and mutton for the next three months.

A cargo of sewing-machines, we hear, is shortly expected in Montevideo from Rio. It is probably the first cargo of the kind ever known or heard of, and speaks highly for the industrial propensities of the River Plate ladies.

...n, ...rt- ...of- ...gna— ...Buenos ...bly be ...rom this ...other day, with ...of pine on board. ...first time we have ever seen pine exported from Bueuos Ayres to Valparaiso.

The Brazilian newspapers teem with the most horrible accounts of atrocities perpetrated on Brazilian residents. We rather think there must be some exaggerations, as we have not heard of the murders referred to, previously.

Our colleague, the 'Tribuna,' in his Editor's Table, which we are happy to see improving, hints that Mr. Wells' balloon project is all bosh. We have no doubt that Mr. Wells will dispel the doubts which this notice has caused in the public mind. The same colleague, we are happy to see, approves of the effort which is got up to help the United States Sanitary Cnmmission.

The Commercial Bank of Montevideo sent a very handsome reward, the other day, to the police officer who captured the forger of its notes, but the officer sent back the money, stating that he only done his duty and would receive no reward.

An English fiiend requested us, yesterday, to enroll hie name for 5 shares in the Central Argentine Railway stock. We hope to be the immediate means of relieving Mr. Wheelwright of 100 shares at least. We have been desired to ask, how much stock has the Government Bank subscribed for? The Mauá has taken, we think, 260 shares; the London & River Plate, 100; the first, we believe, 0!

The great Freemason banquet takes place this evening, the usual anniversary, St. John. By some mistake we stated it was to come off last night.

To-day is a strict holiday: no newspaper to-morrow. The mail closes at the English Consulate to-morrow evening, the Mersey leaving on Sunday afternoon.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO

PROCLAMATION OF PEACE

Sr. Elia, who arrived yesterday morning from Montevideo, brought despatches to President Mitre, to the effect that the conciliatory negotiations were fully concluded, and the Foreign Ministers had set out for Flores' camp to have the same formally signed and ratified. President Aguirre conceded the point demanded by Flores, in a conference held on Wednesday, at 2 p.m. The latter was approaching the capital with his army, and begged a personal interview with the President, which was to take place yesterday.

The 'Nacion' states that the British and Argentine Ministers had a narrow escape for their lives on the 17th, as Flores' outposts attempted to charge their escort, sword in hand, not knowing the mission: this is unlikely, as Flores knew of their coming.

The 'Nacion Argentina' mentions that Candido Bustamante has written to his brother in Buenos Ayres, "the peace will be an honor and glory for all Orientals." The news caused so much joy in Montevideo that the 'Reforma' mentions a splendid 'fete-champetre,' to be given at the expense of a few gentlemen, and to be followed by a round of balls.

Private letters confirm these happy tidings, and we sincerely thank the mediators, while wishing a new epoch of peace for the Republic of Uruguay.

SUBMISSION OF FLORES.

From a correspondent)

Montevideo, June 23rd 1864.

You will, I suppose, be anxious, in Buenos Ayres to know the current o events in this city. The commissioners arrived here on the 21st. after concluding a final arrangement between President Aguirre and General Flores, the latter making an absolute submission, laying down his arms, acknowledging the present legal Government &c.

As this news will, no doubt, be very welcome to all of you on the other side, I hasten to acquaint you of the issue of the mission entrusted to Messrs. Elisaldo, Thornton, Saraiva, Lamas and Castellanos. These gentlemen were received with great ceremony and civility by General Venancio Flores at his head quarters, and he did not make the least opposition to the pacific settlement of the republic.

The Colorado army was in the most utter destitution, the men looking haggard, tired, hungry, ragged and terrified! Flores himself pitied their lamentable condition, and was heartily glad to have a chance of giving up the war, on fair terms. He said "I will make peace, because I am tired of the war, and I see that the Committee in Buenos Ayres is driving me and my men to desperation; but it is well for those gentlemen that I had not triumphed for then they should have fared badly." He showed Sor Elizaldo a few letters from the Committee urging him to a continuation of the war. Poor wretches! Their nefarous designs have been frustrated, and they have earned alike the contempt of the Colorado General and the abhorrence of all honest men, friends to peace and order.

ORIENTAL

SERENADING.

To the Editors of the 'Standard.'

Gentlemen,

I am a stranger in this city, and therefore utterly ignorant of the police regulations, but will you please say, in your deservedly popular paper, if singing is prohibited in the streets? My reason for troubling you is, that being passionately fond of music, and when I am in a musical humour I must sing, no matter whether in Sackville-street or Calle San Martin. As I have been led to believe, this is a 'stunning' free country, I cannot understand how the other night, returning from the opera, one of the night watches attempted to stop me whilst singing 'The last rose of summer.' The benighted Charlie crossed the street, with pike and lantern in hand, as I was finishing the last verse—

"So soon may I follow, when friendship's decay,
And from Love's shining circle the gems drop away,
When true hearts lie withered, and fond ones are flown,
Oh! who would inhabit this bleak world alone."

As well might the old fellow think of stopping the rapids of Niagara, as keep me from finishing that inspired verse when I had once begun. Angry and annoyed at the impertinence of the fellow, I was just on the point of wrenching the pole from him and breaking the lamp on his head, when the poor fellow cast a 'throw a dollar look at me.' I took out a five dollar bill, the only money I had about me, and handed it to the fellow, with the elegance of Plunketto, and then gave him the first verse—

"'Tis the last rose of summer left blooming alone,
All her lovely companions are faded and gone:
No flower of her kindred, no rosebud is nigh,
To reflect back her blushes, or give sigh for sigh."

Ah! poor Moore. D——d Flotow. The audacity of the Germans in daring even to hint at this being a German air. I would fight every German, from Schleswic-Holstein to Vienna, sooner than allow the world to believe that this, my favourite air, was Teutonic.

Say, please, in to morrow's paper, if singing is prohibited by law, for I confess a sort of weakness on this point.

Yours respectfully,

SANTRY.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.

While capitalists on all sides are seizing every advantage of investing in substantial property, and while enterprising speculators are devising some of the most attractive schemes for the development of the resources of the empire, it is satisfactory to learn that the public health is to be cared for as well, and that, too, in a manner which will dissipate disease, & render ultimate dissolution, even to advanced age, a remote idea — a possible contingency, in fact, rather than a positive certainty. The chief charm of life is health, as, without the absence of disease there can be no real enjoyment. Physicians and philanthropists have, therefore, in all ages, endeavored, as much as possible, to provide specifics for all forms of disease; so that healthy functional action might ever keep the mind serene, and prepare it for the reception of those sublime impressions which, even in this sphere, give us visions of the world beyond! That much has been accomplished to subdue suffering and mitigate misery by eminent physiciansin all ages and in all countries cannot for a moment be denied. But while we fully admit the labours and discoveries of the past, we must, at the same time, wreathe the circlet of laurel around the brows of the living alleviator of the age — Thomas Holloway! There are no quack mysteries, or empirical nonsense, in connection with his infallible remedies. The purchaser reads in his own language, be it what it may, the cure for his malady, as directions are printed in every tongue. Millions have testified to the efficacy of these universal specifics; and the eminent proprietor of the patent, having heard that Poona is to be the new capital, has resolved upon placing a large supply of his universal remedies at the disposal of all his Deccan agents mentioned in his advertizements. It is due to the future metropolis of Asia, Professor Holloway informs us, that the health of the citizens should be kept up to the mark, and to accomplish this he will, we are given to understand, double his consignments. Thanking him, therefore, for the interest which he takes in the welfare of his friends in all parts of the world, we can only, in conclusion, congratulate our constituents on the fact of their having the infallible remedies so close at hand. It will, therefore, be their own fault if they are not able to exclaim with the Hindustani poet:—

Tasa be Tasa nao be nao!

IMPORTS.

Our import market shows less activity this last fortnight than previously. The wholesale grocers are all well supplied, and the Custom House deposits are overflowing, but the demand for comestibles has slackened, and the recent failure of Civallieri has had a most injurious effect upon the market. EXPORTS.

Exporters are as busy as the produce of the country will allow. High prices are asked and given, but the season for exporting on a large scale has passed. Dry hides are very weak, particularly those for the States. The total sales of dry hides during the fortnight amount to hardly five thousand, as owing to the recent heavy rains very little business has been done in the markets, which are unapproachable on account of the mud. The price of wool is very high, and exporters are so anxious to get the article that prices are going up still further: but there is no wool in the country worth talking about. The total sales of the fortnight amounted to twenty thousand arobas. Wheat still keeps rising. Sales for the last two weeks, five thousand fanegas.

The following are the most important sales made during the fortnight:—

380 salted cow hides in the rivers, 43 rls on board.
3200 do do. 40 do.
8000 qq jerked beef, at 20 rls. fts:

The Government broker sold 20,000 patacons this morning, which were at once bought up by a leading bull at 29.05, and then resold by him at 29·10, making five cetessimos by the transaction,

A distinguished bull circulated a report on 'Change that the Provincial Government and the Bank had at last agreed upon a project for the redemption of the paper money, the Bank to buy up one hundred millions of paper dollars, and issuing specie notes at the rate of one patacon to 25 dols. m|c. As on the greatest inquiry, we could hear nothing to confirm this report, we think it has its origin in the infatuated imagination of a rather successful ounce broker.

In our quotations of exchange on England yesterday, a typographical error was made, as no exchange as yet has been issued at 49½, the lowest we have heard of is 49¾; still there are many who believe, that before the packet leaves, exchange will be done at 49¼. The total amount drawn for the packet is under £100,000.

Exchange on France is quoted at 5.25 frs., 5.22 frs., and 5.18 frs.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUÁ & Co.

No. 103 calle de Cangallo.—

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one in the Bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days, and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 a. m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

BENSON'S WATCHES AND CLOCKS.

Watch and Clock Maker, by Special Appointment, to His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales.

Opinions of the London Press upon Benson's Great Clock and Watches in the Exhibition, 1862.

"As a sample of English clock work on a large scale, the works of this are probably the finest finished that have ever been seen in this country. No Chronometer could be fitted with more perfectness or carefully adjusted mechanism." - Times, June 11 1862.

"A triumph of ingenuity." — Telegraph, March 31 1862.

"A more splendid and exquisitely finished piece of mechanism we have never seen." Standard, June 17 1862.

"Some of them are of great beauty, and if the English watch-trade only follow up with the same spirit and success this first attempt to compete with foreigners in decorative watches, there seems to be no reason why we should not get the trade entirely into our own hands."—Times, June 23, 1862.

"Ranged around the base of the clock were the Watches which Mr. Benson exhibited, and which have been universally admired for the beauty and elegance of the designs engraved upon them. The movements are of the finest quality which the art of horology is at present capable of producing. The clock and watches were objects of great attraction, and will repaid the trouble of an inspection."—Illustrated London News, November 8, 1862.

HOLLOWA[illegible]

LOSS OF APPETITE—LOSS OF STRENGTH—LOSS OF HEALTH.

The marvellous effect of this fine medicine upon the system is such as to immediately rally all the vital functions, the appetite is soon restored, a full flow of spirits quickly follows, the body becomes immensely invigorated with a certainty of restored health: fresh air and a little exercise are necessary to bring about a permanent state of things. Holloway's Pills impart tone and energy to the most delicate constitutions, and in a manner as to astonish all who take them. By their extraordinary virtues they have obtained the largest sale of any medicine in the world.

HEAD, LUNGS, AND STOMACH.

Look to the regularity of the functions of these foundations of vitality. Holloway's Pills restore to order the slightest departure from the proper action, and therefore may be considered as the regulators of the main spring of human life. Apoplexy can always be prevented if the proper action of the bowels be attended to, which this famous medicine never fails to accomplish. Disorders of the head and heart often terminate suddenly and fatally from obstructions in the system, which might generally be prevented by taking small and regular doses of this fine corrective.

FEMALE DISORDERS.

No medicine can be so infallibly relied upon for overcoming all obstructions as these Pills. They never fail to restore a healthy action throughout the system. The printed instructions will enable all to correct the first symptoms of disease, and avert many serious maladies. Holloway's Pills soon change the sickly and sallow complexion, thus renewing the bloom of health. To females entering into womanhood, or at the turn of life, these Pills will be found invaluable. They should be taken two or three times a week as a safeguard against dropsy, headaches, palpitations of the heart, and all nervous affections, so distressing at certain periods.

SICK HEADACHE, INDIGESTION OR FOUL STOMACH, AND DISORDERED LIVER.

In such a deranged state of health the food is decomposed instead of being digested, and proves poisonous rather than nutritious. This derangement can be at once set right by a course of these purifying and digestive Pills, which have acquired for themselves an imperishable fame for the mastery they have constantly exercised over the digestive organs. Holloway's Pills increase the appetite, regulate the liver, repress biliousness, healthily stimulate the kidneys, and move the bowels in a more wholesome and natural manner than any other medicine.

DISORDERS INCIDENTAL TO CHILDREN.

The liver and stomach of children are, from many causes, often out of order, as they are allowed to eat many things that would disagree with their parents, hence their blood becomes impure, and liable to take any disease that is prevalent, and that in the worst form. One Pill, reduced to a powder, and put into a little water, given occasionally to children of twelve months old, and to those of three or four years, three Pills, and to others of seven years of age, four Pills—will always make children look blooming and healthy. Seventy-five out of every hundred do not reach the age of maturity. Holloway's Pills would not only preserve their health, but save the lives of thousands. Many people foolishly think that children only require a little medicine twice a year.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following Diseases:—

Ague	Female Irregularities	Rheumatism
Asthma	Fevers of all kinds	Retention of Urine
Bilious Complaints	Fits	Scrofula, or King's Evil
Blotches on the Skin	Gout	Sore throats
Bowel Complaints	Head-ache	Stone and Gravel
Colics	Indigestion	Secondary Symptoms
Constipation of the Bowels	Inflammation	Tic-Douloureux
Consumption	Jaundice	Tumours
Debility	Liver Complaints	Ulcers
Dropsy	Lumbago	Venereal Affections
Dysentery	Piles	Worms of all kinds
Erysipelas		Weakness from whatever cause.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Indigestion and Liver Complains —The digestion cannot be long or seriously disordered without the derangement being perceptible on the countenance. These Pills prevent both unpleasant consequences; they improve the appetite, and with the increase of desire for food, they augment the powers of digestion and assimilation in the stomach. Holloway's Pills deal most satisfactorily with deranged or diseased conditions of the many organs engaged in extracting nourishment for our bodies from various diets—as the liver, stomach, and bowels, over all of which they exercise the most salutary control. By resorting, at any early stage of malady, to these purifying and laxative Pills, the dyspeptic is speedily restored to health and strength and his sallowness gradually vanishes.
